

Your IT support shouldn't stop at the office door.

For food manufacturers, food processors and businesses with multiple working environments, IT support needs to work wherever your people do.
Let's have a conversation about what your business needs.

Your staff aren't just sitting at desks. They're working on factory floors, in warehouses, cold stores, production areas and retail environments where reliable technology is essential to keeping operations moving.

That's where Hub & Spoke is different.

Alongside our food manufacturing equipment and software solutions, we provide practical IT support for businesses across their entire operation.

Our IT support covers every working environment:

🏢 OFFICE IT SUPPORT

Day-to-day desktop and user support, Microsoft 365, cloud servers, data backup and IT security to keep your office systems running smoothly.

🏭 FACTORY AND MANUFACTURING IT SUPPORT

Specialist industrial computer equipment designed for demanding environments, including cold rooms and cold stores. Backed by our understanding of food processing and manufacturing operations.

📦 WAREHOUSE IT SUPPORT

Reliable IT equipment and support for warehouse teams, inventory management and stock control, helping keep goods moving and business information accessible.

🛒 RETAIL IT SUPPORT

Point-of-sale systems and store technology that help keep transactions running and minimise disruption when customers are waiting.

IT support that fits the way your business operates.

We offer flexible IT support plans tailored to your requirements, including:

✓ Telephone and remote IT support
✓ On-site technical support
✓ Pay-as-you-go and break-fix arrangements
✓ Weekly and monthly support plans
✓ In-hours and out-of-hours assistance

Whether you need occasional technical help or ongoing IT support across your entire business, we can help you find an approach that works.

One team. One point of contact. From the factory floor to the back office.
